

COLLEGE of EDUCATION

Tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor in Special Education

Lehigh University seeks candidates for a tenure-track Special Education faculty position at the assistant or associate professor level. Successful candidates will join our strong team of researchers and teacher educators. Responsibilities include teaching graduate level special education teacher preparation courses, maintaining an active research agenda, supervising and mentoring doctoral students, and procuring training and/or research grants. Candidates should have an earned doctorate in special education or a related area, with expertise in high incidence disabilities (learning disabilities preferred), academic interventions, assessment, and inclusion. Experience in school settings and expertise in instructional methods for diverse learners is preferred. The successful candidate will be given an excellent start-up incentive to develop a research agenda.

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2009 and continue until the positions are filled. Inquiries and nominations can be made to (610) 758-3256 to lek6@lehigh.edu. Submit a letter of application, 3 letters of reference, publication reprints and vita to: Lee Kern, Ph.D., Program Coordinator, College of Education, Lehigh University, 111 Research Drive, Bethlehem, PA 18015. Electronic submissions may be sent to spedsearch@lehigh.edu.

Lehigh is a Doctoral/Research Intensive university of 4400 undergraduates and 1800 graduate students, located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania with easy access to New York and Philadelphia. Lehigh offers excellent benefits including domestic partner benefits (see Lehigh Work/Life Balance for Faculty www.lehigh.edu/~insloan). Additional information on the position and the College of Education can be found at www.lehigh.edu/education/facultysearches/.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER