Tenure Track Position in SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

The Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Alberta invites applications for an Assistant or Associate professor tenure track appointment in School Psychology. The successful candidate will join the Psychological Studies in Education area in a strong, active, and collegial Educational Psychology department. The University of Alberta is a top-ranked large research university located in Edmonton, Alberta, a rapidly growing metropolitan area with over one million residents and a vibrant cultural community along with extensive recreational opportunities.

The standard teaching load in the Department is 2/2, with additional course release for new hires. The University of Alberta is one of the largest and most productive universities in Canada—a 2006 national survey ranked the university #1 in the country for Overall Reputation, #2 for Most Innovative, and #1 for Preparing Leaders of Tomorrow. The average faculty salary at the U of A is among the highest in Canada, and taxation and house prices compare favourably with other large Canadian cities.

We are seeking applicants who possess potential for excellence in research and a commitment to excellence in teaching. The successful candidate will be expected to develop an active program of research, seek research grant funding, teach courses in school psychology and/or educational psychology, serve on committees, and provide clinical and research supervision of masters and doctoral students.

A letter of application, a current curriculum vita, a statement of research interests, one published paper, a teaching portfolio, and names and addresses of three referees should be forwarded to:

Dr. Robin D Overall, Chair
Department of Educational Psychology
6-107b Education North Building
University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta, Canada T6G 2G5

 Please ensure to reference Competition No. A10012463 when forwarding applications.

Closing Date: November 1 for earliest consideration, but will remain open until filled.
