

Arun K. Varshneya

President, Saxon Glass Technologies, Inc., Alfred NY, 1996 - present
Professor of Glass Sci & Engineering, Alfred University since 1982. Emeritus 2011.

Education:

B. Sc. Agra University 1962

B. Sc. Tech. with Honors in Glass Technology, Sheffield Univ, 1965

MS/PhD Materials Sci & Eng., Case Western Reserve Univ, 1968/1970.

Prior industry experience:

Ford Scientific Labs (Dearborn MI) 1970-1973

General Electric Lighting Business Group (Cleveland OH) 1973-1982

Scholarly activities:

Author of roughly 150 technical publications (wide range of topics); 6 patents

Solo-author of the widely acclaimed textbook, "Fundamentals of Inorganic Glasses", 2nd edition

Author of 13-page "Industrial Glass" entry in Encyclopedia Britannica

Eight US patents; Five pending.

Awards/honors:

2015 "Toledo Glass & Ceramics Award" of the Michigan/NW OH Section of the American ceramic Society

2014 "Distinguished Life Member" Award of the American Ceramic Society.

2012 Cooper Award Lecturer on the "Science & Technology of Glass Chemical Strengthening", (video available Amer Ceram Soc website)

2007 Recipient of "President's Award" from the International Commission on Glass for lifetime contribution to the glass profession

Fellow of the American Ceramic Society

Fellow of the Society of Glass Technology (UK)

Treasurer, The American Ceramic Society 2008-2010

North American "Ambassador" to the International Commission on Glass