

Rajiv Tiwary

Dr. Rajiv Tiwary has over 30 years of research experience in the area of glass manufacturing. He did his B.Tech. (Mechanical Engineering) from IIT, Kanpur, India and his M.S. And Ph.D. (both in M.E.) from The Pennsylvania State University. He worked at Usha Martin Ltd. In India and Textron Everett Research Laboratories in Everett, MA before joining PPG Glass R&D in 1989. At PPG his research has mainly focused on float glass melting and forming areas. He has been a member of American Society of Mechanical Engineers and American Ceramic Society and is on the board of Glass Manufacturing Industry Council.