

Assistant Professor of Management
Strategic Management

Lehigh University seeks to fill one tenure track position in strategic management at the assistant professor level beginning Fall 2007. Candidates must have a research-focused doctorate in strategic management from a recognized school of business. We are seeking candidates who have the ability to conduct scholarly research aimed at publication in top journals and who are capable of outstanding classroom performance at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Team teaching, distance education, web-based instruction and use of business simulations are expected. Preference will be given to candidates with research interests in strategic alliances or entrepreneurship and organizational management experience.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University is a private research institution, strategically located within 90 miles of New York City and 50 miles of Philadelphia. The Lehigh Valley is economically vibrant with a very strong industrial base comprised of such firms as Air Products and Chemicals, Agere Systems, B. Braun Medical, Mack Trucks, Lutron Electronics, PPL, and Rodale Press among others. The total population of the Lehigh Valley is approximately 600,000.

Lehigh University has a total student population of approximately 4500 undergraduate and 1800 graduate students. Ranked 32nd among national research universities in the 2006 US News & World Report survey, Lehigh is placed in the “most competitive colleges” category in both Peterson’s Guide and Barron’s Profile of American Colleges. Lehigh has well-established relationships with regional, national, and global business enterprises.

Approximately 1300 undergraduates, 325 graduate students, and 55 full-time faculty members comprise the College of Business and Economics. In addition to undergraduate, MBA, and doctoral programs, joint programs exist between business and engineering (Integrated Business and Engineering at the BS level, MBA & Engineering) computer science (Computer Science and Business at the BS level) and education (MBA & Educational Leadership). The undergraduate business program was ranked 18th by Business Week in 2006. Opportunities for sponsored research are available through the Center for Value Chain Research (www.lehigh.edu/~inchain).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, please apply before July 30, 2006 (electronic submissions preferred). Please send a curriculum vita, a letter outlining your research and teaching interests and the contact information for three professional references to:

Michael Santoro, Class of 1961 Professor and Associate Professor of Management
College of Business and Economics
Lehigh University
621 Taylor Street
Bethlehem, PA 18015-3117
Email: inmanage@lehigh.edu; Phone: (610) 758-6414; Fax: (610) 758- 6941

Lehigh University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.