

Student Profile

Name	Jilda Hodges
Email	Jahg@lehigh.edu
U. Grad. Degree(s)	B.S., Psychology, Ursinus College M.A., Child Development, Tufts University
Research Interests	Academic functioning of healthy siblings of children with cancer. School reintegration for children with chronic illness.
2005 -2006 placements	Philadelphia School District, Patterson Elementary Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, Division of Oncology
Why interested in the project	I believe this project will provide me with the training necessary to understand the impact of health on school functioning. Possessing this knowledge will help to redefine the role of the traditional school psychologist and will open the door to unique career opportunities. I feel that the coursework and practicum assignments will provide excellent, interesting training experiences and will allow me to become competent in working with a wide range of children and families.