NEW OF INTEREST

Check out this interesting article on the globalization of higher education from the New York Times: "U.S. Universities Rush to Set Up Outposts Abroad."

Will the programs reflect American values and culture, or the host country's? Will American taxpayers end up footing part of the bill for overseas students? What happens if relations between the United States and the host country deteriorate? And will foreign branches that spread American know-how hurt American competitiveness? Full Article.

NEW EXHIBITION

The "Cartographic Perspectives: From the New World to Your World" exhibit opens February 22, 2008. Alongside the range of maps, the exhibit also features a range of perspectives on how Lehigh faculty and students use, read, and make maps. Faculty and graduate students frame some of the treasures of the Lehigh map collections by explaining how they read and use maps. Students from Lehigh's Global Citizenship program show and narrate their experiences mapping the world in their studies abroad. Finally, visitors will have a chance to see a short cartographic history of Bethlehem and Lehigh in maps alongside early sixteenth and seventeenth century world maps. "The Cuban Remix: Rethinking Culture and Political Participation in Contemporary Cuba"

by Tanya Saunders

This lecture explores the impact of Hip Hop on cultural and political development in the Caribbean. Specifically it examines the little known use by Black Cuban artists and intellectuals of Hip Hop as a means of consciousness raising and advancing democratic change on the island.

02/21 in Linderman 200 @ 4:00pm

THE STORY OF STUFF

From its extraction through sale, use and disposal, all the stuff in our lives affects communities at home and abroad, yet most of this is hidden from view. The Story of Stuff is a 20-minute, fast-paced, fact-filled look at the underside of our production and consumption patterns. The Story of Stuff exposes the connections between a huge number of environmental and social issues, and calls us together to create a more sustainable and just world. It'll teach you something, it'll make you laugh, and it just may change the way you look at all the stuff in your life forever. Very relevant for us Global Citizens!! Website

ISRAELI EXHIBITION

An interesting upcoming exhibition in Philly from February 9-24 at The Rotunda, 4014 Walnut Street: basically a group of Israeli soldiers are traveling around the world to talk and show what the occupation is really like. Apparently it's not what the media here in America would like you to think. If you could spread the word to anyone you know in Philly or New York that might want to come to the exhibition, that would be very helpful! Flyer
