Billy Taylor

Head Coach

2002-2003 Patriot League Coach-of-the-Year, Billy Taylor, led the Mountain Hawks to one of the largest turnarounds in Division I this year, more than tripling the amount of wins from a year ago. He and his staff work closely with parents and children to ensure a quality camp experience for each camper.

"Camps are an important piece of building a winning tradition. They provide an opportunity for our staff to encourage area youth while instilling important fundamentals and having plenty of fun," said Taylor.

Taylor's coaching experience includes one year as an assistant for John McLeod at Notre Dame, and three years as Fran McCaffrey's top assistant at UNC-Greensboro, where they successfully guided the Spartans to an eight game turnaround in their first year and a conference championship and NCAA Tournament birth in their second year.

Coach Taylor played at Notre Dame from 1991 to 1995. He graduated in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and computer applications and worked for Arthur Anderson, earning his CPA. He entered coaching in 1998.

Taylor and his wife, Avlon, are pictured with the daughter, Gavielle.

Nathan Jameson

Camp Director

Nathan Jameson directs Lehigh University's boys' basketball camps. In his role as assistant coach he oversees player strength and conditioning and works in recruiting, individual player development and scouting. Coach Jameson brings a love for basketball, a passion for kids and the desire to combine the two in a meaningful camp experience.

A two-time Academic All-America selection and 1,000 point scorer, Jameson played for Coach Taylor while at UNC-Greensboro. As a senior captain, Jameson helped guide the Spartans to a Southern Conference Championship and NCAA Tournament bid.
