

D. Gary Harlow
Professor and Chair

Mechanical Engineering & Mechanics
Packard Laboratory
19 Memorial Drive West
Bethlehem, PA 18015-3085
(610) 758-4127 Fax (610) 758-6224
e-mail: dgh0@lehigh.edu
www3.lehigh.edu/engineering/meche

August 23, 2013

To All MEM Undergraduate and Graduate Students:

The faculty of Mechanical Engineering and Mechanics (MEM) have approved the following:

- The Lehigh University Student Code of Conduct (Article III, Section 1. Academic Integrity) reproduced below for your convenience, will be followed.
- Specifically, MEM only authorizes the use of the following calculators, in compliance with the policy for the engineering licensing exam, for problems, quizzes, tests, and final examinations administered as part of coursework:

The National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying (NCEES) has announced that only the following calculators will be permitted in exam rooms for exams:

HP: HP 33s; HP 35s

Casio: All FX-115 models (must have FX-115 in its model name)

Texas Instruments: All TI-30X models (must have TI-30X in its model name); All TI-36X models (must have TI-36X in its model name)

Using any other electronic device, including cell phones, laptops, iPads, other unspecified calculators, etc., for calculations during a test or examination will be considered a violation of the code of conduct. Students caught using or even having available any unapproved electronic devices during the administration of an exam are subject to dismissal from the exam site and will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary action.

- In order to prepare adequately for formal testing, it is assumed that you will practice using these same calculators for solutions to problems in labs and homework where it is appropriate.

ARTICLE III – Expectations of Conduct

Lehigh University is a community that has expectations of its student members. These expectations and a list of non-inclusive examples of behavior that might breach these expectations are below.

I. Academic Integrity

Lehigh University expects that all students will act in a manner that reflects personal and intellectual honesty.

Proscribed Conduct

A. Cheating. This includes but is not limited to:

1. The use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations.
 - i. The possession at any quiz or examination of any articles which are prohibited will be regarded as evidence of responsibility.

2. Dependence upon sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports or homework, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments.
3. Acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the university faculty or staff.
4. Any attempt to falsify an assigned grade in an examination, quiz, report, program, grade book, or any other record or document.
5. Creation and/or submission of falsified data in any experiment, research paper, laboratory assignment, or other assignment.
6. Collusion occurs when students willfully give or receive unauthorized or unacknowledged assistance. Both parties to the collusion are considered responsible.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "D. Gary Harlow". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

D. Gary Harlow

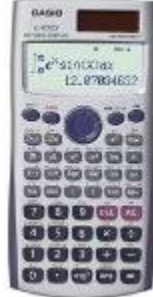

HP 33S

HP 35S

Casio FX 115ES

Casio FX 115MS

TI 30X (various models)

TI 36X (various models)

