Introductions and Welcome

Lehigh 101

A primer on our academic programs, location, outcomes and more!

The Intersection of Education and Mental Health

In her engaging talk, Vivian Mui, M.Ed. and doctoral candidate, will delve into the dynamic landscape of mental health within educational settings, addressing both universal challenges and culturally nuanced considerations. Drawing from psychological research and her own clinical experience, we'll navigate through timely issues impacting students, including those in international settings. Together, we'll explore effective and culturally relevant helping skills, empowering you to make a profound impact in your counseling practice.

Candid Conversations

Students are applying to college in a world that's changing by the minute in terms of geopolitics, global health, admissions practices and more. This is an opportunity to share excitements and concerns about the opportunities and challenges that exist and lie ahead for our profession.

Lunch

Mock Admissions Committee

You are the admission committee! With direction from admissions staff, you will review four applications and use a holistic approach in making admissions decisions for each student.

Break

Recommendation Writing Workshop

We provide tips and advice for writing effective letters of recommendation. The presentation will also include do's and don'ts to take back to share with teachers who will also write recommendations.

Financial Aid Primer

A basic overview of financial aid resources available to citizens and non-citizens at universities in the United States.

Entrepreneurship Project

A condensed version of the students' entrepreneurship project activities, run by Willy Das, PhD, who is also leading the student projects.

Dinner

Reception followed by dinner and remarks from our guest speaker Pratheek Palanethra '16G M.Eng. in Technical Entrepreneurship. Pratheek is the Strategic Alliances & Partnerships Manager for Schneider Electric (Bangalore) and winner of Shark Tank India.
