OVERVIEW

Our College Town

Bethlehem has an ideal mix of both urban and rural landscapes, and of the past and present. It's a city with a historic, small-town friendliness and feel. The Lehigh River divides Bethlehem into two downtowns—North Bethlehem and South Bethlehem. The Northside is home to historic Main Street and "Restaurant Row," and the eclectic SouthSide consists of shops and restaurants, and is home to Lehigh University.

SouthSide Arts District

The arts are alive and flourishing in Bethlehem. With the Wind Creek Event Center and the headquarters of local arts leader, ArtsQuest located just steps from Lehigh's campus, students have access to concerts, comedians, art galleries, studios and the Olympus Digital Imaging Center. Each month, South Bethlehem comes alive with First Friday, featuring live music, food samples and special deals through town.

Admissions office favorite spots:
The Goose, The Cup, Tulum, Rakkii Ramen and Saxby's

The Lehigh Valley

Bethlehem, Allentown, Easton and neighboring boroughs make up the Lehigh Valley. Here, you'll find a myriad of activities—watch the LV IronPigs (the Philadelphia Phillies' AAA team) at Coca-Cola Park or the LV Phantoms (AHL Affiliate of the Philadelphia Flyers) at the PPL Center, which also hosts concerts with artists like Logic and Elton John. Other performing arts venues include SteelStacks, State Theater, and Symphony Hall, and music lovers won't want to miss the Martin Guitar factory tour.
